CLEVELAND, June 11.—Herbert Hoover sped toward New York to-day as the friends and admirers who wildly cheered him last night heaped superlative praise of his speech calling on the Republican party to enter into a holy crusade for liberty.

Greeted with uproarious reception every time he left his hotel rooms, Hoover won a half hour's ovation at the Republican national convention when he assailed the New Deal as a "muddle of a spoils system" and "reckless adventure."

Hoover said the New Deal appeared to some people as "sheer opportunism, that it is a muddle of a spoils system, of emotional economics, of reckless adventure, of unprincipled claims to a monopoly of human sympathy, of greed for power, of a desire for popular acclaim and an aspiration to make the front pages of the newspapers."

CONVENTION HALL, CLEVELAND, June 11.—With the nomination of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the presidency conceded on all sides, the Republican convention struggled into late hours today to compose its platform differences, name a ticket and go back home.

Both Col. Frank Knox of Illinois and Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan were mentioned as most likely for the vice presidential nomination; but Vandenberg has said repeatedly he would not accept. He urged Knox.

They and all the other erstwhile rivals of the "sunflower candidate" decided not even to have their names presented.

Senator William E. Borah, who has been a big figure in all the proceedings, still would not say whether he would campaign for the ticket.

He seemed satisfied with the platform draft, as it stood before the debate—but said cryptically, "the candidate is the platform."

The fifth session had to be recessed until tonight before the long-awaited platform was ready.

Two large state delegations put so much support behind Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas today that his nomination for the presidency on the first ballot was forecast openly by his managers.

Pennsylvania and New York delegates, heedless of the advice of their leaders that by waiting they might gain the balance of power, voted 135 of their 165 delegates to Landon.

Other delegates from the two states indicated they would join after a single ballot for other candidates.

"That clinches it," was the jubilant comment of John Hamilton, Landon's manager.

Ready For Convention FloorBy NATHAN ROBERTSON

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The Republican platform finally emerged at noon today from the resolutions subcommittee of the national convention, after a number of changes had been made at the request of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, prospective nominee.

Members of the subcommittee said Landon had been given almost everything he asked in changes of the original compromise platform, except a plank for a constitutional amendment to permit minimum wage legislation by states.

Two of Landon's high command said the demand for this plank would be carried to the full committee which meets this afternoon.

Some committee member said, however, that former Senator Henry Allen of Kansas, one of Landon's chief platform spokesmen, was satisfied with the form in which the document emerged from the subcommittee.

Landon's demand for revision in the compromise platform completed by the subcommittee last night had delayed presentation of the party program to the convention today. It was expected to reach the convention floor tonight.

Some of the platform rewriting asked by Landon was said by committee members to be chiefly a matter of phraseology, but among the significant demands were:

Inclusion of a platform pledging civil service status for all government employees below the rank of cabinet.

Re-instatement of a plank or control of interstate public utilities.

Revision of a plank condemning the New Deal's reciprocal tariff law and demanding that trade treaties be ratified by the senate.

Landon's demand for a "pay as you go" tax program to finance ship, $532.40; East Rochester Special, $20.62; Franklin, $147.44; Kensington Special, $172.37; Summitville Special, $230.53; Unity, $530.66; Washington, $117.24; Wayne, $1,096.48; Western Rural, $5,463.98; Yellow Creek, $278.08; Columbiana, $3,295.57; Fairfield Centralized, $3,190.69; Leetonia, $6,211.30; New Waterford, $3,819.98; Sallineville, $3,928.75.

A debate, "Resolved, that a young man is making a mistake to choose farming as life work," will feature the meeting of Willow Grove grange Friday night. Affirmative speakers will be Mrs. Russell Myers and Ralph Crawford; negative, Mrs. Cora Briggs and Russell Myers.

The program will also include instrumental music by B. J. Bruner and Emerson Conrad; reading, Mrs. Elson Whinnery; vocal solo, Richard Stamp; original poem, Mrs. Emerson; stunt, Mrs. Richard Stamp; vocal duet, Ruth Garbarine and Mrs. Nelson Baunach.

State Highway Division Engineer Harry Sharp of New Philadelphia, has completed a tour of the county with county commissioners, viewing roads that the highway department proposes to take over for improvement and maintenance.

F.D.R. CONTINUES
TRIP TO TEXASTells Arkansas He Will Continue Efforts To Solve Problems(By Associated Press)
ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN
ENROUTE TO DALLAS, TEXAS,
June 11.—President Roosevelt rode into Texas today, pledged to continuation of his efforts to solve economic and social problems under the "broad purposes" of the Constitution.

The Chief Executive gave this message to the nation last night in Arkansas just before resuming a 4,000-mile western tour that called for brief addresses today in Houston, San Antonio and Austin.

Will Speak in Dallas
Tomorrow morning at Dallas, the hub of Texas' celebration of its centennial of independence from Mexico, the Chief Executive will deliver the second set speech of his trip.

The third will be made at Vincennes, Ind., Sunday morning in dedicating a memorial to George Rogers Clark, Revolutionary war hero of the northwest.

Addressing an open air Arkansas centennial throng at Little Rock late yesterday, the President declared the Constitution of the government extends beyond state lines and added:

"Under its broad purposes we can and intend to march forward, believing as the overwhelming majority of Americans believe, that it is intended to meet and fit the amazing physical, economic and social requirements that confront us in this generation."

Speaks for "Common Man"
Declaring the "common man" must be protected from the "privileged few," he asserted the nation was "commencing to solve" the questions relating to prices, wages, hours of labor, conditions of employment, fair competition and social security, and added:

"The new approach of these problems may not be immediately discernible; but organization to meet them can never be predicted on the relaxation of human effort."

The crowd which overflowed the 30,000-seat centennial stadium on the outskirts of Little Rock cheered his statement that if local or state governments were unable to improve the economic position of their inhabitants "it would take a foolish and short-sighted man to say that it is no concern of the national government itself."

Deadline Extended

LISBON, June 11.—Collection period for the payment of the June real estate tax has been extended until July 20 by order of county commissioners. It was announced today by Treasurer George Boice.

If necessary, the treasurer's office will ask the state tax commission for a further extension of time for the payment of the current installment.

COUNTY APPEALS
TODAY FOR AIDJack Johnson Heads Delegation To Columbus
On Relief Issue

A delegation from Columbiana county appealed to the state relief commission today for help in raising funds to finance poor relief. Because the county owes the state $38,000 for relief loans and its residents twice have rejected a proposed $164,000 poor relief bond issue, Relief Director Jack Johnson at Columbus today said there was a possibility that Columbiana might not share in funds proposed under a new state relief program. Columbiana's approximately 1,400 families on relief have been receiving only $6.70 a month each, Jackson said. The county's population is 86,000.

Director Johnson was accompanied to Columbus by Prosecutor George L. Lafferty and Conrad Berg, president of county commissioners.

Adams' Request for
New Trial Studied

LISBON, June 11.—Motion for a new trial for Dudley Adams, convicted for murder in the first degree last Friday but with a recommendation of mercy, will be argued before Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court here Friday morning.

The motion was filed in court Monday afternoon by Atty. Louis Tobin and Jason H. Brooks, Jr., of East Liverpool, counsel for the defendant.

In the event the motion is overruled, Adams will be sentenced for the killing of Clarence Dickey at East Liverpool last Christmas morning.

FOR MEMORIALI. O. O. F. District Services at Goshen High
Sunday

Elaborate arrangements are being completed today for a memorial service to be held by nine lodges of District 27 of the I. O. O. F. at Goshen Township High school in Damascus Sunday.

The service, which will open at 2:30, will follow a parade from the Odd Fellows hall in Damascus to the High school building, led by the band from the Youngstown lodge. Besides Salem, Youngstown and Damascus lodges, those of Alliance, Sebring, Columbiana, Leetonia, Lisbon, Washingtonville and East Palestine will participate.

General Perry D. Eberly of Canton will be present at the service, which will be open to the public. The memorial drill team consists of a member of each subordinate lodge and associate Rebekah lodge.

The line of march for the parade is as follows: Flag, Youngstown band, cantons, ladies' auxiliaries, members, drill team, Rebekahs and subordinate lodges.

The program will open with music by the band, prayer and welcome address, the speaker to be announced. Rev. Paul Gerrard of Hubbard, formerly of Sebring, will have the principal address. Selections will be offered by a quartet from the Alliance Rebekah lodge.

Flower girls will be Eleanor and Doris Slagle of Damascus.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the service.

Campaign for Safe
Driving Is Opened

Recognizing the fact that during the summer months thousands of school children will be without safety supervision, plans for an intensive drive on safe driving practices during June and July were approved by the board of directors of the Columbiana County Motor club at Lisbon last night, President E. E. Beardmore announced today.

Everyone will be given an opportunity to cooperate by signing a pledge of safe driving practices. The club executive pointed out that every one signing the pledge would be given windshield stickers designating them as members of the County Star Safety club.

The monthly report disclosed that 101 members were received during May, among which were 29 new members receiving the approval of the board.

Manager A. P. Morris was named delegate to the state convention of the Ohio State Automobile association at Cedar Point June 29 and 30.

The next meeting of the board will be held at the East Palestine Country Club July 8.

Thief Enters When
Proprietor Snoozes

DAYTON, June 11.—T. A. Dixon, a restaurant owner, paid dearly for a short snooze in his place of business early today.

While he dozed for a short period, a bold thief took $8 from the cash register, a revolver from a drawer in back of the counter and then to add insult to injury, stole Dixon's eye glasses off his nose, without awakening him.

DANCE RECITAL
OPENS TONIGHTMore than 125 Youngsters
To Take Part In Two-Day Program

More than 125 youngsters will sing, dance and perform when Miss Bettie Lee Kenneweg presents her fifth annual recital at the High school auditorium tonight and tomorrow night. The program, which has been divided into halves because of its length, will be different each night.

The first half of the program will be presented at 8:15 tonight with all Miss Kenneweg's students taking part.

Miss Elaine McGhee will present a toe-tap dance as a feature of Friday night's program, an innovation here, in which she will perform a tap dance on her toes.

A number of the recital performers having vocal parts are also voice students of Mrs. Esther Odoran.

The program for tomorrow night is as follows:

OHIOANS RIDE
LANDON WAGONName of Robert Taft Will Not Be Placed In NominationBy H. H. DAUGHERTY
Associated Press Staff Writer.

CLEVELAND, June 11.—State Chairman Ed D. Schorr announced today the Ohio delegates to the Republican national convention pledged to support Robert A. Taft, "favorite son" candidate for the presidential nomination, would be released from their pledge.

"Everything has worked out satisfactorily," Schorr told a meeting of the Buckeye delegates. "It will not be necessary to conduct a formal caucus concerning the favorite-son pledge."

Schorr asserted the release applies to first-ballot voting and, therefore, Taft's name would not be placed in nomination.

The announcement definitely swung Ohio's delegation to the bandwagon of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas. Forty-seven Ohio delegates were pledged to Taft and five to Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho.

Borah headquarters announced simultaneously that the senator had released delegates pledged to support him.

Taft, Schorr, National Committeeman Frank F. Taggart and other Ohio leaders conferred last night and early today on the problem. With strong Landon sentiment apparent in the Ohio delegation, the question was whether to break away from Taft on the first ballot or change later.

A quiet boom for Taft as the vice presidential nominee continued. Ohio delegates reported that they were making contacts with delegates from other states in Taft's behalf.

The delegation attended a dinner in honor of Taggart last night. The dinner was arranged by the central committee for delegates, alternates and their wives.

CONSTRUCTION TROUBLE

The Republican platform builders probably are not having as much real trouble as speculative reports indicate they are having, but no one can doubt that they are experiencing difficulty.

The job is to construct a set of declarations which will be satisfactory to most of the delegates, most of the voters who are expected to support Republican candidates next fall and the party's presidential candidate. It is a large order.

The platform is supposed to be a concise statement of party principles. Therein lies the difficulty. Within the Republican party there are many shades of opinion and some sharp differences. That is equally true of the Democratic party, which will have trouble with its platform, too.

The Democratic party, however, has a great advantage over the G. O. P. Its candidate's ideas are familiar ground. In fact, the Democratic platform will be built to fit the candidate, whereas Republicans must try to erect their platform before the candidate's identity is known.

In 1912, an interesting experiment was conducted by the Democrats, who made their nominations before adopting a platform. The idea has not been followed since, but in recognition of construction trouble it would not be surprising if there should be a revival of interest in getting the horse before the cart.

MAYBE THEY'RE RELATED

Probably there is no connection between two news stories—one originating in London and the other in Singapore Straits Settlements—but the possibility of their being related fascinates one.

The London born story, for instance, tells that Great Britain will default outright on its $85,670,763 debt payment due the United States June 15. From Singapore come the reports that within eight years the British have converted a vast area of jungle and swamp into the world's most powerful naval base at a cost of $75,000,000.

Announcement of the debt default was expected while building of the naval base is not surprising. Persons given to speculation, however, will toy with the idea of connecting the two stories. They will realize it took eight years to build the base and that one year's debt payment exceeds the cost of the naval project. They might go on to wonder, however, whether the already powerful British navy couldn't have managed without that extra base, especially since it was built only for "defense purposes."

They might as well continue to wonder. Meanwhile Uncle Sam, who is doing quite a bit of defense building himself, will understand Great Britain's position as he enters a "not paid" notation in his ledger.

DESERTED CITY

The capital of the United States is not Cleveland. The Republican party is not in power. Washington still is the seat of national affairs, and Democrats still are the majority.

But Washington is a deserted city. Congress is in recess. President Roosevelt is on the road, lining up customers for the big sales drives next fall. There isn't any room left in the news column to tell about his trip, and he insists he is not trying to make any news anyway.

Out in Topeka, Kan., another man is not making news. Gov. Landon, with his name on the lips of every person attending the Republican convention in Cleveland, is keeping his own lips closed. Newspapersmen who have gone to Topeka, "where the real story is," are waiting for the spotlight to shift from Cleveland, if and when the governor of Kansas gets the nomination.

When details of the arrangements whereby cities obtain conventions are told, it is difficult sometimes to understand how the game can be worth the candle. As little as an hour in Cleveland this week should furnish anyone with the explanation. There is nothing under the sun quite like a convention. It is the only magic which can transform an ordinary city into the focus of national attention—which can make even Washington lose its political glitter.

THE STARS SAY

For Friday, June 12

According to the lunar transits, this day may unfold many anxious, frustrating and adverse situations, which must be wisely combatted. This condition besets business, financial and employment, as well as private life. It is advisable to defer or postpone matters where possible and to meet essential activities with restraint, calm judgment and control. Shun speculation and conserve the funds.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year in which it will be difficult to make much progress, owing to adverse and ominous conditions generally. It would be well to meet such with equanimity and composure, shunning strife and impetuosity, guarding the finances and awaiting a more fortuitous planetary situation.

A child born on this day is likely to have a serious and contemplative nature. It may be gentle and kind, but fond of its own company and pursuits, which may be spiritual or mystical, perhaps poetic.

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, June 11—Dwight Deere Wiman is the dilettante of the theatrical producers. And what is more, has a flair for the theatre that has resulted in several hits. This year's musical sensation, "On Your Toes," is one of his brewings. The ingredients are his personal selections.

He is, as Ring Lardner might say, of "the Deere plow people" and has always luxuriated in a sink stocked with sheen. The stage became a hobby when he was in college and everything about it, from star to flyman, has always absorbed him. He was, in a hyphenated word stage-struck.

Long before he dabbled in the production end he was one of the immaculate first nighters, the ardent sort who drifted to the stage entrance afterward merely to see the players file out. Aside from John Hay Whitney he is the most heavily bank-rolled entre-peneur.

As cultured a producer as New York has ever known was the aristocratic Bostoner, Withrop Ames. His office had the serenity of a savant's cloister. He espoused the Little Theatre and was successful. The most outspoken and least affected of the guild is the veteran Al Woods.

Such a keen observer of the stage as Robert E. Sherwood declares the most thoroughly stage struck performers he has ever known are Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt. Every performance to them is The Great Adventure, whether played in New York or Hoboken. Their life work is to put on a show—and they do it both on and off. Their quirks of vanity, their feigned indifference to critics are all a part of their act. And they are people of almost the precisely taut temperaments who have made marriage a rousing success.

New York's most consistent mayoralty heckler is a tuppity 81-year-old, partly deaf man by the name of Stewart Brown. He has badgered every mayor since and including John Purroy Mitchell. He is president of a real estate organization and his hecklings usually take place at the Board of Estimate meetings. Twice he has been picked up bodily, upon orders of the mayors, and carried from the room. Usually kicking and squealing with vigor. Often they have thought of barring him, but he threatens court proceedings and has his way.

Most people who are targets for heckling lose their temper, which is defeat. Bryan in early days was frequently interrupted from the audience. He always stopped and bowed his head as in prayer, and this put the taunters on the defensive, for the audience, always for an underdog, booed him down. Still the most adroit parrier of a heckler's thrusts was Julius Tannen. He went after them hammer and tongs, and always won. Often theatre manager's employed hecklers to annoy the monologist just to inspire him to put on a show. It was better than his act. Another clever heckler router was Wilton Lackey. He was often framed at Lamb's Gambols to hear his replies. He could wither them in a jiffy.

No one wangles more fun out of the business of free lance than Charles Phelps Cushing. He is an alumnus of the Kansas City Star and for 20 years has been wandering the metropolis with camera and notebook. Sometimes he discovers surprising photographic shots or runs across material that can be made into a saleable article. A bachelor, he has no boss and works and loafs as the mood seizes. One of the lucky few who makes money making his own assignments.

Study in persistence: For two years now the Boston has spent most of his waking hours hunting for mice without ever catching or, so far as is known, seeing one.

Thingumbobs: Young Alfred Vanderbilt is a sucker for T-bone steaks. . . . The highly publicized Tommy Manville does not keep a scrap book. . . . There is a Fannie Hurst Fan Club in Hawaii. . . . Raquel Meller is having a comeback in Berlin with her old violet song. . . . Julia Sanderson laughs with way away from the radio, too. . . . Ben Ames Williams writes swell poetry but won't market it.

Lord Fauntleroy in revolt: The 5-year-old son of a neighbor brought a corner policeman to his apartment door today and, pointing to his mother, exclaimed: "Arrest her, lock her up and keep her until she cuts off my curls!"

Hoover In Cleveland To Address Convention

One of the highlights of the Republican national convention at Cleveland came with arrival of Herbert Hoover, former president, to address the convention. In this group gathered around the ex-president is Mayor Harold Burton of Cleveland, left, and Patrick J. Hurley, former secretary of war, standing at the right, behind Hoover whose reception was a highly enthusiastic one.

A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

(Reg. U. S. Patent Office)

MRS. MARY BAKER EDDY, founder of the Christian Science church, whom this writer, never a Christian Scientist, had the honor of knowing quite well, said more than once:

"This is woman's hour." She might be pleased to know that a woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Caldwell Tomlinson, has been chosen president of the Christian Science Mother church in Boston, succeeding a man.

Mrs. Eddy, interested in all good effort, would be interested to know that when the rowing crew of New York's Manhattan college was beaten by Rollins college, the coxswain of the Rollins crew, "Stearns, aged 21, height 5 feet 2 inches, weight 110," was Phoebe Stearns, a Rollins co-ed. It was "woman's hour" for her; and quite a surprise for the Manhattan crew.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT starts on a "one-week" visit to the southwest, including Texas, going, he says, "not on politics, but to see what the country looks like." He will not keep to his one-week schedule if he visits at Dallas, the centennial exposition celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of Texas freedom from Mexican rule.

You should include that magnificent exposition in your travels this summer. No American can have any clear idea of the bigness of his country until he has seen Texas, biggest thing in it.

THE LAST chapter in the Lindbergh murder and kidnapping tragedy is written with the return to Col. Lindbergh of $14,665 held by New Jersey, as evidence against Hauptmann.

All those dollars, part of the ransom for the murdered child, were found in Hauptmann's garage, except one $10 gold certificate. That bill, used by Hauptmann in a careless moment to pay for gasoline, sent him to the electric chair. The gas station man wrote down the number of Hauptmann's car. Murderers convict themselves.

SCARCITY of potatoes disturbs housewives. They cost now 20 cents for five pounds against nine cents last year. The new crop will reduce prices in a month or less. Meanwhile, those to whom price makes a difference might advantageously accustom themselves to other vegetables, including carrots and turnips, of which too few are eaten.

SOON YOU may see the last of the silly "sanctions" with which the futile League of Nations tried to keep Italy out of Ethiopia and make perpetual the Ethiopian slavery system.

A well-informed French citizen writes:

"The man in the street today feels more bitterly toward England than he does toward Germany."

France thinks that she was coerced into an attitude hostile to Italy, against her will, and is not made happier by an official warning that Italy will leave the League of Nations and seek an alliance with Germany, unless "sanctions" against Italy are promptly lifted.

Five Bills Given Davey's Signature

COLUMBUS, June 11.—Five bills passed recently by the Ohio legislature bore Gov. Martin L. Davey's signature today. One appropriated $250,000 for care of insane patients in Cuyahoga county and an additional liquor store for each 30,000 population.

The other bills authorized sale of a 10-day non-resident fishing license for $1.10; appropriated $3,800 to the revolutionary memorial commission; and permitted subdivisions to exchange notes or bonds for new issues with the consent of 70 per cent of the bond holders.

Bricker Rules On Lafferty's Query

COLUMBUS, June 11.—A ruling by Attorney General John W. Bricker advised law officers today that persons arrested without a warrant must be taken promptly before a magistrate having jurisdiction of the offense.

The ruling, to George Lafferty, the prosecutor of Columbiana county, also held that a person arrested on a warrant can be held in jail only until the arresting officer can take the prisoner safely before a court having jurisdiction.

AVOID POISON IVY

A reader of these articles suggests that now is the time to write something about the evil effects of poison ivy. "Folks will be going into the country and hills to hunt wild flowers and often unknowingly come in contact with poison ivy," he says.

If more persons were familiar with the ivy plant the poisoning would not be so common. The poison ivy, known as "toxicodendron," trails over the ground, often covering a considerable area. It rarely rises more than a few inches from the ground, although it may climb a tree or fence post like some harmless vine. It is easy to recognize because its leaflets are arranged in groups of three, with the stem of the middle leaf longer than the other two. The leaves are thick, shiny and rarely show any imperfection of formation.

Poison Sumac, or thus venenata, is more difficult to recognize than poison ivy. It has a compound leaf of many leaflets and can be recognized only upon close scrutiny, when it is found that the leaf has a curved midrib. The leaflets grow out from each side of the rib giving the appearance of a trough. This plant is usually found in swampy land and rarely if ever grows on dry soil.

Exposure to either one of these plants leads to itching or burning of the skin. Small blisters soon form and the skin becomes red and swollen. The swelling may become so severe as to distort the appearance of the face.

As a rule, ivy poisoning follows direct contact of the skin with some part of the poison ivy plant. But it may also be contracted in an indirect way. It is known to follow the handling of tools, clothing, or other objects that are contaminated with the pollen of the poisonous plant. It is for this reason that persons who are extremely susceptible to poison ivy are warned against walking through the countryside or in wooded sections, unless protected by adequate clothes and gloves. Avoid undue exposure of the bare skin to leaves, bushes and trees.

After Exposure

If you have been exposed to poisoning by ivy and observe itching and inflammation of the skin, take a warm bath and thoroughly scrub the body with an alkaline soap. Follow this with an alcohol sponge. If alcohol is not available, gasoline may be used.

Relief of the itching is obtained by applying a soothing preparation, such as calomine lotion. Hyposulphate of soda, a tablespoonful to a half glass of water, makes an excellent local application.

Beauties "Capture" Showboat!

No one offered any objections when these three bathing beauties "captured" the Moses Cleveland, Great Lakes exposition showboat at Cleveland. The occasion was a beach style show held in preparation for the exposition which opens June 27. Blonde Eleanor O'Brien, left, is wearing a daring two-piece suit, while dusky-haired Elaine Sheets, center, decorates a one-piece suit of checked wool. Violet Foran, another blonde, sports a tan and white perforated rubber creation.

Interior View of Republican Convention Hall at Cleveland

Here is an excellent interior view of the Public auditorium at Cleveland, showing the banners, flags and seating arrangement of the Republican convention hall as seen from the rear of the auditorium looking toward the speakers' platform, middle center. At the extreme right is the tower housing the broadcasting studios and control room for the battery of microphones suspended from the ceiling in middle center. In the distance, back of the speakers' platform is the smaller hall, seating 3,000 persons, which was thrown open to give access to the convention for extra spectators and guests.

High Court Rules Against Auto Firm

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, June 11.—The All-house-Brown Motor company of Salem, the state supreme court ruled today, must pay $20,000 to Mrs. Hazel Wilcox of Damascus as compensation for the death of her husband, Leroy.

Wilcox was killed when struck by an automobile allegedly driven by a salesman of the company.

A common pleas court jury awarded the woman $20,000. The court of appeals reversed the decision, but on a rehearing affirmed it. The supreme court rejected the company's request to review the case.

The high court also upheld a $2,000 judgment awarded to Margaret Sauer of Youngstown against Sam McKenzie for injuries suffered in an automobile collision by refusing to review the lower courts' records.

Are Women Gaining in Politics?

The fact that a larger number of women gathered for the Republican convention this year than ever before indicates the increasing importance of the feminine vote in national politics. At the same time there is considerable doubt whether they have attained the position where they can demand and get an important part in this field which has been dominated by men for so long. The suffrage movement, to which such leaders as Carrie Chapman Catt devoted their lives, has progressed to the point where scores of women are recognized as important figures in national politics, among them such notables as Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, one of Ohio's delegates, and Mrs. Alvin T. Hert of Kentucky, national committeewoman.

Eastern Star Holds Annual Inspection

Impressive ceremonies marked the 25th annual inspection of Salem chapter No. 334, Order of Eastern Star, at the Masonic temple Wednesday evening. Among the 225 members and guests who assembled for the event were several grand officers of the lodge.

Mrs. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Imhoff of St. Clairsville were present. Imhoff is worthy grand patron of the state of Ohio and Mrs. Imhoff is grand representative of the state of Pennsylvania. Others attending were Miss Juanita Lawrence of Massillon, grand representative of Louisiana Mrs. Eva Snediker of Wellsville, grand representative of New Hampshire, Mrs. Nell Dredke of Canton, grand organist.

A dinner at 6:30 opened festivities. Dining room decorations carried out the silver anniversary motif with latticed ceiling of French blue streamers from which hung silver stars and bells. A trelis of evergreens, roses and blue iris formed a gateway into the dining hall.

Tables were appointed in pink and silver with favors in harmonizing shades. The chapter room was decorated with palms, ferns and roses and lighted with tall branch candelabra.

Miss Bernice Barnett of Sebring, accompanist, played for the guests as they took their places in the dining room.

Mrs. Hazel Bearick of Columbiana, deputy grand matron, was inspecting officer. Mrs. Edward M. Jenkins of Winona is worthy matron of Salem chapter and John Noble of Lisbon is worthy patron. Other chapter officers are: Associate matron, Mrs. Virgil Battin; associate patron, Wilbur Finley; conductress, Mrs. James Andrews; associate conductress, Mrs. Earl Beardmore; secretary, Mrs. Gertrude Stewart; treasurer, Mrs. Melvin Bertolette; organist, Mrs. John W. Hundermarck; chaplain, Mrs. Ray Pearce; marshal, Mrs. Wilbur Finley; Adah, Mrs. Myron Kelly; Ruth, Miss Ethel Coy; Esther, Mrs. Paul Holwick; Martha, Mrs. L. W. Knox; Electa, Mrs. Charles Fineran; warder, Mrs. Cecil O'Hara; sentinel, Ed. McCarty.

Mrs. Charles Cornwall is leader of the chapter choir which includes: Mrs. Glenn Harding, Mrs. H. H. Wilkinson, Misses LaVaughn and Isabelle Simpson, Mrs. J. C. Steinbaugh, Mrs. Will King, Mrs. Raymond Broomall, Mrs. Verne R. Martin, Mrs. Vance R. McBane, Miss Mary Elizabeth Jessup and Mrs. Charles Gibson.

Mrs. Gibson offered a solo, "The Little Brown Bird," during the service and the choir sang several numbers.

Miss Saffell Bride of New York Man

Helen Saffell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Saffell and Ralph Geiss of Jamestown, New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Geiss of Youngstown were united in marriage at St. Luke's Lutheran church in Youngstown, Tuesday, June 2.

The pastor, Rev. Wm. J. Kratz, D. D., officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

The bride's sister, Miss Fern Saffell was maid of honor, with the groom's brother Charles Geiss of Youngstown, as best man.

The bride was attired in a tea rose lace gown with orchid accessories and carried a bouquet of tea roses and purple larkspur. Miss Saffell wore an aquamarine mouseline de sole gown with peach accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses and pink larkspur.

Only the immediate families of the couple were in attendance. The groom's parents entertained at a reception at their home following the ceremony. After a wedding trip to Toledo, Detroit and Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Geiss will reside in Jamestown, New York where Mr. Geiss works as a building contractor.

Mrs. Geiss is a graduate of Alliance High school and Kent State university and for the past eight years has been teaching in the Boardman Centralized school.

Past Noble Grands Have Luncheon

Members of the Past Noble Grands association of Home lodge No. 110, Daughters of Rebekah, enjoyed a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday at the Willow Grove grange hall on the Crorogtown rd. The dinner was served by ladies of the grange to approximately 25 members.

A short program followed the dinner, opening with roll call, "Advantages of Salem," Mrs. Gertrude Cook had a paper, "June Bugs," and Mrs. Cora Schwartz read one on "Card Playing."

A picnic is scheduled for July 8 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Howard on the Canfield rd.

Honor Recent Bride At Shower

Mrs. Merle Wright was honored by friends at a shower given by her sister, Miss Stephanie Hanzlick, at the latter's home in Salem Heights, Thursday evening, Mrs. Wright before her marriage on May 23 was Miss Ann Hanzlick.

A wiener and marshmallow roast, music and games were enjoyed by the guests during the evening. Mrs. Wright received many beautiful gifts.

P. H. C. Will Hold Picnic Soon

Protected Home circle members, at their meeting Tuesday evening at the E. of P. hall, made plans for a picnic to be held soon, the date to be announced later. The meetings during the summer will be held at the homes of members. The sessions will open promptly at 7 p. m.

On June 23 the group will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Harry Gardner on West Second st.

Something New Under the Moon

Novelty Fabric Smart for Evening Frocks, Formal and Informal

By MARIE MAROT

THERE is something new under the sun, or maybe it should be under the moon, for the clothes shown here are all for evening wear. The novelty to which we refer is a new men's wear fabric that has been adopted and adapted for our evening frocks, formal and informal. It is non-wrinkling, porous and cool, has a splendid draping quality without being heavy, and it tailors beautifully. It has a slight Palm Beach cloth look to it, but it isn't that at all. The first of the three models of this material is in white, buttoned from throat to hem with self-covered buttons and trimmed at the cap sleeves and at the throat with black satin. The black daisies have yellow centers. The middle outfit is a dinner suit with a sleeveless, one-piece dress with a shirtmaker top and a kerchief in the breast pocket to match the faille taffeta Ascot tie. The cape ensemble at right is also in white, with blouse and sash of black satin. It's just the ticket for vacation wardrobes.

Center, dinner suit with Sleeveless dress which has shirtmaker top.

Miss Burk Bride of Joseph Ryan

Miss Mary Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burke of North Lincoln ave., became the bride of Joseph Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bryan of East Liverpool, in a ceremony at St. Paul's Catholic church at 9 a. m. Wednesday. Rev. Fr. Vincent Jones officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Marjorie Birch and David McSweeney of Sebring were attendants and Joseph Burke, brother of the bride, and Clarence Bryan, brother of the groom, served as ushers.

Miss Burke wore a beautiful white satin and lace wedding gown with draped neck and long sleeves. She wore a full length veil flowing from a little lace cap and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilacs-of-the-valley. Miss Birch wore a long blue organdy gown, large white picture hat and pink accessories. Her flowers were pink roses and blue delphinium.

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home following the ceremony, where 45 relatives and friends were received. The bride's table was appointed all in white with a center decoration of white flowers and white tapers. A large wedding cake was at the bride's place.

After a trip through the east Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will make their home near East Liverpool, where the groom is employed by the Crocker City Dairy Co. Mrs. Bryan, a graduate of the Salem High school in the class of '32, has been employed by the Kresge company.

Guests at the wedding were from Summitville, East Liverpool; Midland, Pa.; Cleveland, Chester, W. Va., Wellsville and Steubenville.

Watkins' To Leave For Connecticut

Farwell affairs are being held for Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Watkins of North Lincoln ave., who leave Friday for Torrington, Conn., to make their home. Mr. Watkins has been sales manager of the wringer department at the Mullins Manufacturing Corp., where he has been employed for the last 11 years.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Earl of Brooklyn ave., entertained 20 friends at a dinner party last Friday night at the Quaker tea house in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Watkins.

A group of Mr. Watkins' friends are giving a stag dinner for him tonight at the Golf club.

Mrs. Joseph Dwyer of Elizabeth, N. J., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Price, South Lincoln ave., was a guest at the dinner party at the Earl home.

Mrs. R. E. Smucker Gives Address

Mrs. R. E. Smucker, speaking on "A Cruise in Southern Waters," was a guest yesterday at a meeting of the Women's Missionary society at the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Luella Harris led the devotions. Miss Christina Robinson played a violin solo and Ina May Getz sang "In the Garden With Jesus." Mrs. C. S. Carr read an interesting paper on "The Philippines."

Tea was served at 6 p. m. by the June committee of the Women's association, headed by Mrs. C. C. Wilkinson.

Homemakers Meet At Hoopes Home

Vernal Grove Homemakers enjoyed a program on "Flower Gardening" at their meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Celestia Hoopes on the Winona rd.

Plans were discussed for a family picnic on July 8 at Westville lake. Following the meeting Mrs. Hoopes, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Eldon Whinnery, of Damascus, served a delightful lunch.

N. E. L. Class Plans Wiener Roast

A wiener roast is scheduled for the meeting of the N. E. L. class of the First Friends church Thursday evening at the home of Miss Mary Walker on the Elsworth rd. All members are asked to meet at the church at 7:15.

Mrs. James Herbert and son, Joseph, went to Columbus Tuesday to accompany their son and brother, Kenneth, home from Ohio State university where he has been studying the last year. Miss Mary Weigand accompanied them on the trip.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills — which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, June 11—Influenced bullish aspects of the United States government report, that prices averaged higher early day. Talk was current the new domestic crop does not hold promise of an exportable surplus sufficient to send prices to a world level for some time, at least until the spring crop is assured.
Opening ½ off to ½ up, July
1½-½, September 85½-¾ wheat held near to this range. Corn held ¼, lower to ¼ higher, July 1½-½, and for the time being held little.

Store Sales Gain
WASHINGTON, June 11.—A sharp increase in department store sales in May, contrary to the usual sea-

Youthful Dancer

Jerry Kaufman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kaufman, will lend his dancing skill and personality to the annual Bettie Lee Kenneweg dance recital Friday night at the High school auditorium.

Jerry will appear in one of the feature numbers on Friday night's program. The first half of the recital will be presented tonight at the High school, the second half Friday night.

TULARE, Calif.—Some one sent Mrs. Orval Wood a gopher snake by mail. When she opened the box, the snake, apparently as surprised as Mrs. Wood herself, made as quick a getaway as did she.

No more tired
"let-down feeling for me"

"I feel and look better
—there is color in my cheeks
—my appetite is keen
—my weight is back to normal.
"This I am noting in my Diary and I give full credit to S.S.S. for causing me to feel like myself again."
So we suggest—
Don't try to get well in a day...this is asking too much of Nature. Remember, she has certain natural processes that just cannot be hurried.
Therefore, if you are pale, tired, lack a keen appetite, have lost weight and feel rundown...a frequent sign that your blood-cells are weak, with a

Theater Attractions

Merle Oberon, Joel McCrea and Miriam Hopkins who will be seen in "These Three" at the State Friday and Saturday.

"The Children's Hour", famous Broadway play, from the pen of Lillian Hellman, has been adopted for the screen and renamed "These Three". The film version of this popular play will be shown at the State theater Friday and Saturday. Miriam Hopkins, Merle Oberon and Joel McCrea have the leading roles. This film is an entertaining picture that will probably be chosen among the ten best films at the end of the year.

12-Year-Old Is Villain
The three stars have excellent support, with one member of the supporting cast in particular turning in an extraordinary performance. Bonita Granville, twelve year old actress, who is the meanest and most wicked villain a picture ever had.

Briefly, the story concerns two college girls, played by Miriam Hopkins and Merle Oberon, who, with the help of a young doctor, McCrea, turn a delapidated old New England mansion into a charming school for girls.

A romance develops between Miss Oberon and McCrea, so Miss Hopkins conceals her own love for him. The school prospers but there are two disturbing factors. One is Miss Hopkins' silly, sponging aunt, who has installed herself in the school, the other Bonita, a vicious, lying child, who bullies the other children and will go to any lengths to escape her school duties.

Eavesdroppers
One night McCrea happens to fall asleep in Miss Hopkins' room while waiting for Miss Oberon. The aunt and Bonita eavesdrop and the child overhears the aunt's interpretation, and insinuations of the affair. On these, the cunning Bonita bases her plan to get away from school. A campaign of lies is started against these three innocent people by the child.

The school is lost, the romance broken and humiliation and suffering brought to these three people before the truth is found out and the child exposed.

This twelve year old Bonita Granville is said to be quite a discovery, playing the "heavy" in this film with an uncanny understanding of the wicked, despicable character she portrays.

"Road Gang" the prison picture, will be shown at the State for the last time tonight.

BUCKEYES VIE IN DUAL MEET

Face Southern California At Ohio Stadium Saturday

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, June 11. — The dopesters had the Ohio State-Southern California dual track meet results all settled today, except for the deciding points in the clash expected to produce some possible Olympic contestants.

According to the field house experts, the Trojans will win seven of Saturday's events, the Buckeyes six. Who will win the mile and two-mile runs is the question. If the Trojans win one, they will have the majority of the meet's 15 points. If the Bucks win two, they have it. (For the record, the scoring will be on the English system of a point to an event.)

The Trojans are the national collegiate champs and are supposed to be the most powerful assortment of trackmen ever pulled out of one institution of higher learning. On the other hand, the Buckeyes have Jesse Owens, the best individual performer in a deal of history.

Jesse, winner in every collegiate competition he has entered, will be in the broad jump, low hurdles, and the dashes.

The experts gave the Trojans the

Leetonia Loses Ninth County League Game In Row to Salem

Bob Chappell's Triple And Steve Zatzko's Single Give Merchants Win in Seventh

Victory Pulls Salem Nine Up to Even 500 Per Cent Mark In County League Standings; Sebring and Salineville Lose In Other Circuit Tilts

Leetonia was pushed further down in the cellar of the Columbiana County Baseball league at Centennial park yesterday when it was nosed out by the Salem Merchants, 15-14, in a contest that was halted at the end of the seventh inning by darkness.

With the score tied at 14-14 as they came to bat in the last half of the seventh, the Merchants squeezed out the victory by bringing in one run as a result of Bob Chappell's triple and Steve Zatzko's single.

It was the ninth consecutive defeat for Leetonia, which has to date failed to register a victory in league competition. The victory pulled the Merchants up to the even 500 per cent mark in the league standings with five wins and the same number of defeats.

The contest was marked by heavy hitting throughout as both the Merchants and Leetonia collected 15 blows.

The Merchants went into the game with the lead in the first inning, four in the second and six in the third, but faltered in the fourth and fifth innings to permit Leetonia to tie the score.

Ed Pukalski hammered out two hits in four jaunts to the plate to lead the Merchants at bat. While Nevin Halverstadt, Chappell and Zatzko connected for two blows apiece, Burdick was outstanding for Leetonia with three hits out of five times at bat.

Ray Willis was on the mound for the Merchants while Harold was in the box for Leetonia.

The Merchants step into fast company Sunday when they face the league-leading Crookery City nine at East Liverpool at Dunn Eden park. The Liverpool nine was the victor yesterday.

Sebring and Salineville suffered defeats in other county league contests yesterday as the Lisbon Hanna Oils downed the former, 14-3, and Newell took the latter into camp 7-5.

JUNIORS DEFEAT EAST LIVERPOOL

Charles Carey Post Nine Not Out of County Race By Any Means

The Charles H. Carey post No. 56 American Legion Junior baseball team is not out of the Columbiana county race by any means.

The Salem Juniors proved that fact yesterday by shutting out East Liverpool, 5-0, in a regulation seven-inning contest at Columbiana park in the Pottery city. The victory was the fourth the local Juniors have registered to date in county competition.

Once again, the fine pitching of Joe Hrvatin was instrumental in gaining the victory. Hrvatin, who set down Leetonia Juniors with only five hits last Saturday, worked better than ever yesterday to blank the Pottery city lads and grant but four safe blows.

Errors cost the Salem Juniors a victory in their last contest with East Liverpool, but there were no mistakes yesterday as the entire team played air-tight ball to support the neat twirling performance of Hrvatin.

The Juniors scored their five runs in the fifth and sixth innings as a result of nine hits taken from Bowersock, East Liverpool pitcher. Howard Kerr and Armeni paced the hitting with two blows apiece. The Salem Juniors' other hits were split between Schaffer, Smith, Voytek, Everhart and Hrvatin. Both of Armeni's hits went for triples.

In their next county contest, the Salem Juniors will encounter East Palestine's undefeated team at Centennial park at 3 p. m. Saturday.

BREWERS CLING TO SMALL EDGE

Milwaukee Holds 1-Game Lead In American Association

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, June 11.—The Milwaukee Brewers moved on to Columbus today still clinging to their precious one-game edge over Kansas City's Blues in the tussle for the American Association leadership.

The Brewers, combining excellent pitching by Joe Heving with a 10-hit assault, shut out Indianapolis last night, 4 to 0, to remain ahead of the Blues who whipped Louisville, 5 to 1 in a daylight game. Heving gave the Indians only six hits, all singles except a triple by Oscar Eckhardt, and kept them well apart.

Kansas City finally managed to conquer Louisville after being pushed around by Burleigh Grimes' men. Hal Smith kept eight Colonels hitless apart, and contributed three singles to pace the Blues to a 5 to 1 decision.

Columbus squared the series with Minneapolis by whipping the Millers 6 to 2, behind Max Cullen. Macon's effective pitching. Macon allowed eight hits, while the Red Birds thumped Reg Grabowski and Ray Kolp for 12.

Toledo defeated St. Paul, 8 to 3, in a night game, combining 12 hits off Glenn Spencer. Horace Leschke and Weir with four Saint errors. Carl Boone limited St. Paul to nine hits.

Wrestling Trust Row Not Settled

COLUMBUS, June 11.—The wrestling "trust" business is not settled.

Billy Sandow, manager of Heavyweight Wrestling Everett Marshall, answered the New York Athletic commission's suspension of his charge with a threat to sue the body for $100,000 and asked:

The commission suspended Marshall Monday for failure to accept a match in New York with Ed "Strangler" Lewis the week of July 13. Sandow said he told General Phelan Marshall was booked in the west that week.

POSTSCRIPTS Of Sport

Only 40 minutes were required to play the Salem Hardware-Mullins Foremen softball contest 'other night'.

The average game extends well over an hour.

Clyde "Wink" Miller can't seem to strike a happy medium in his muddling.

"Wink" says, "One week I'm mentioned for making three hits, the next for three errors."

Charles Hinkley is the "correct" name of the Class B league ump.

Most everyone calls him "Stitt."

Joe Kelley and Phillip "Dusty" Rhodes are moaning the blues over the number of bats their Junior Legion kids have broken.

Two new sticks met their doom last Saturday.

Kelley says "I'm going to buy 'em 50 cent bats from now on and maybe they'll appreciate $2 ones."

You can't buy a set of golf clubs in Salem.

Sporting goods dealers say they don't sell.

Russ Smith, manager of Mullins Foremen, is all smiles because college terms are over.

Smith now has the services of Al Catlos, "Gordy" Scullion and Wayne Siding for his softball team.

Catlos and Siding.

Scullion attended New River college in West Virginia.

Siding was one of the "big men about the campus" at Western Reserve.

Jim Scullion, Salemite, who coaches at Olmsted Falls High near Cleveland has joined up with the Noble Shoe muddling squad.

Bill writes from out in Tucson, Arizona that he's getting toughened up on western sunshine.

Bill was laid up with sickness for quite a spell last winter.

Brooks Bowman, who besides being a song writer is a tennis player of some note, dropped in on his parents last week-end and stopped off at the Grand theater while here to see his favorite tie movie.

A western thriller.

Bowman graduates from Princeton university June 16.

It's about time for Bob Davis to drop in with plans for the annual tennis tournament at the Salem Country club, July 4.

It cost Bill Miller of the Trades Class softball team "one buck" to attend the Class A league managers meeting at the Memorial building Tuesday night.

Miller turned over the dollar when the Trades Class protest to the board of arbitration was not accompanied by the required fee.

Harold "Red" Braman, formerly with The News but now an Associated Press foreign correspondent, was among those present at the Salem High school Alumni association banquet as was Chet Smith, another former Salemite, who is now sports editor of The Pittsburgh Press.

Cubs And Pirates Supply Headaches To Frisch And His St. Louis Cardinals

Pittsburgh Drubs Dodgers For Clean Sweep of Series; Cubs Win Third In Row from Phillies; Van Lingle Mungo Takes Walkout

By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Any way you look at it, the Buccaneers from Pittsburgh and the champion Cubs of Chicago seem to be the boys to supply whatever headaches come to Mr. Frankie Frisch and his St. Louis Cardinals in the current National league race.

They're chasing each other right up the ladder, resting in second and third place, respectively, today, now that what is generally regarded as the New York Giants' long-predicted blow-up has come to pass.

The Pirates drubbed the Dodgers 6-3 yesterday for a clean sweep in their four-game series, and the Cubs took their third in a row from the Phillies, 4-3.

Their victories, along with the surprise walkout of Van Lingle Mungo, the Dodgers' number one speedball pitcher, from the Brooklyn temporary camp in Pittsburgh, featured the shortened program in which Cleveland's 10-2 triumph over the Senators, and the Boston Red Sox' 4-3 win over Detroit, furnished the only other competition.

No Reason

Although Mungo left the Dodgers without giving a reason, the talk popped up again that he isn't keen about the support of his teammates this year, and that he's still down in the mouth over the failure of recent trade winds which might have blown him across the river to the Giants.

And the Giants could use him most handily, for a pitching collapse, particularly on the part of Clyde Castleman, and, of late, Harry Gumbert, has been largely responsible for the New Yorkers' skid. Although they were rained out at Cincinnati yesterday, they slid from a second place tie all the way down to fourth place in the upward rush of the Pirates and Cubs.

Over in the American League, while the leading Yanks were idle, the Red Sox pulled up to 2½ games back of the pace with their win over the Tigers, while Cleveland again became a threat for third place in taking the Senators.

Blaeholder Laughs

Blaeholder's victory over Washington gave that veteran another of the laughs he is piling up this season, for with five wins and two losses, he has become the Number two hurler on the Cleveland staff, after being tossed into the discard both by the cellar holding St. Louis Browns and the seventh-place Athletics.

The Cubs waded into the last of the ninth to polish off the Phillies, with Catcher Ken O'Dea in the hero's role by singling in the tying and winning runs with the bases loaded. The Pirates had easy sailing, through Red Lucas' five hit pitching for the first eight innings, and Guy Bush's ninth-inning relief job to stem a Dodger rally.

Vandenberg in Informal Pose

Photographers found Senator Arthur Vandenberg in an informal mood when they snapped him during a lull in official business at his hotel room which was the scene of scores of conferences during the G. O. P. convention in Cleveland.

Your Vacation begins

the minute you decide on THE FLANDERS

ANTICIPATION plays a big part in enjoyment. That's why The Flanders with its beachfront location, its open and enclosed sun decks, its 3 sea water pools, its recreation facilities and excellent meals will provide a perfect subject for pleasurable vacation thoughts and their realization!

OCEAN CITY, N. J.

He's the Captain Now

Toucy, a saffron-breasted toucan, saw New York from the deck of the liner Nerissa and decided he'd take a look around. It took the combined efforts of the crew and passengers to recapture him. And when he got back to the ship he took possession of Capt. A. Y. Drysdale's chair. They let him keep it.

TRADE ALL OLD DEBTS for ONE NEW ONE

If you are worrying over bills—wondering how you are going to keep your credit good—here's a suggestion. Get all your bills together. Suppose they amount to a hundred or two, more or less. You can come in and "trade" them to us for one new obligation, payable in small monthly installments. This is a sound, sensible business-like way of getting out of debt. The reasonable cost is a small price to pay for the freedom from worry. We welcome inquiries by phone, mail, or in person.

THE GUMPS—YOU'RE ON THE SPOT NOW, ANDY

"BLIND TO LOVE" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

SYNOPSIS
Mary Shannon, young and pretty stenographer, is broken-hearted when she learns that James Todd Jr., is engaged to Nesta Grainger. Mary had known "Jamie" for two years and, though he never committed himself, he inferred that some day they would marry. She tries to hide her hurt feelings from her parents and Aunt Willie. One night, Mary works overtime and her handsome employer, Stephen Bennet, takes her to dinner. He has just been appointed manager of the Seattle office of the A. A. Healey Steamship Company and wants Mary to go as his secretary. She does not want to leave her family. At home, Mary writes "Jamie" asking him to meet her when he comes to town so that she can congratulate him.

CHAPTER VII

The door squeaked. Her mother said, "Whatever are you doing, sitting up there with the light on at this hour?" "Couldn't sleep. Woke up. So I thought I'd kill time writing a couple of letters."

By leaning back on the pillow the big pile of torn paper was hidden, she hoped, and she slipped the last one, the one she had been reading over, under the pillow. "What are YOU doing up? I didn't wake you, did I? Oh, Ma, go back to bed!"

Ma shook her head. She looked terribly tired, too, but sort of young, with her hair, that she had never had cut, in two little dark pigtails over her shoulders and her old-fashioned white nightgown showing below the gray flannellette bathrobe she had pulled tight around her. "No, you didn't wake me. I haven't slept. Sometimes your father's snoring bothers me. I couldn't drop off tonight. I got to thinking, Mary. I've let your Aunt Willie draw out the last of her share of what mama left us . . . she's doing something funny with the money—I'm worried!"

by Anne Adams

"My dear, he's MAD about you! The way he LOOKS at you!" Ethelyn exclaimed.

When Ma had been coaxed back to bed, and Mary was alone again with the door closed, she lay back wearily.

Just as if she didn't have troubles enough already, without Aunt Willie acting up! Ma ought to have more sense! Letting her draw out the last of their joint savings account, that they called their "estate money"—not even finding out what she was doing with it.

Well, it wasn't hard to guess. Some quack was getting it. She'd spent hundreds already—every cent she earned and most of the little that Grandma Geddes left, fussing around, going on crazy diets, and taking crazier treatments, and there wasn't a thing wrong with her. Ma ought to put a stop to it!

She closed her eyes. There was a soft blue light in the room, and the sparrows were setting up their early morning din in the palm tree. Must be almost time to get up—hardly worth while going to sleep again—

Ma had a hard time waking her at seven. She was shocked and a little pleased at her own pallor as she dressed.

"For once you could stand a little rouge, Babe," Ma said.

But Mary rather liked the effect of white skin and scarlet lips. She almost missed the train, adding a touch of the gray eye-shadow she usually saved for evenings to heighten the effect.

Bennet was impressed.

He was really worried about her. "I can't forgive myself for overlooking you! Why didn't you telephone? You should have stayed home. You aren't well enough to be here—"

"Oh, I'm all right. I thought I ought to be here. It's your last day."

"Well, of course, I did want to see you . . . a few last minute things . . . and to say goodbye. After all, when two people have worked together every day for eight months, as we have—"

Yes, she had been working eight months, though it seemed longer in some ways, and not half so long in other ways. . . . Eight months since she had left college. . . . Maybe if she hadn't left. . . . Maybe Jamie's folks influenced him against a girl who worked.

"You sort of hate to break up the combination, too, don't you?"

She looked up at him, gathering her thoughts. "What?"

England's Bid for the Flivver Plane Market

A mechanic is shown starting the engine of England's new light plane as it was put through tests at the Middlesex Airport. The ship is fitted with a two-cylinder engine, which drives it at a cruising speed of 70 miles an hour and at a cost estimated at slightly under one cent a mile. The plane, weighs 286 pounds and will cost about $1,200.

"I mean, after we've worked together for so long, it's something of a wrench to separate, and go our different ways."

"Oh! Yes."

"It's just barely possible that this won't be permanent. I may not suit up north, and—"

"Why, Mr. Bennet! Of course you will! Look at all you've accomplished here!"

Heavens, how conceited men are! Stand there, waiting for you to pile it on, thicker and thicker. Did he expect her to burst into tears because he was leaving?

Just because a man is young and nice looking—he really was extremely nice looking—he thinks every girl is ready to fall for him. Well, she was no Ethelyn Piper, thank you. No boss would affect her temperature.

She mentioned Bennet's leaving, quite casually, to Ethelyn when they happened to meet in the dressing room.

"He asked me to go with him! It would be sort of fun, but of course I wouldn't consider it."

"My dear, he's MAD about you! I've seen that for weeks. The way he LOOKS at you! Why, he—"

"Yes, I know how he looks at me. The way he looks at the window washer and the towel man, and rent collector—"

"Mary, you don't mean that. You must know—"

"I know, all right."

"But, Mary, a girl can't always tell. I never notice the Chief showing any interest in me, particularly. Except, of course, that he will remark on a dress, or the way I've had my hair cut or something like that. But the other girls notice all the time. The telephone girl says it's simply killing the way he—"

Heaven save me from THAT! Mary thought, and so she was a little cooler in her farewell to Bennet than she had been. Especially as he let her go home early—first time she'd ever caught the three o'clock!—and told her to keep in touch with him, and let him know if things didn't go just right for her—

But that's better than going too far the other way. And what did it matter?

She wished she hadn't mailed that letter to Jamie. It was a little too casual. Just like her. Always playing safe. Well, when she wrote again, after the ice was broken, would be time enough. . . .

Aunt Willie was home when she got there. It was her afternoon off. She was trying to take the spots out of her tan crepe de chine. The whole house smelt of gasoline.

"Why don't you send your clothes to the cleaner? Phew! Besides, you're likely to have a fire!"

"Does it smell? Do you notice the odor? Gooesake! Heh, heh, heh! It does a little, don't it? I guess that's what's been bothering Tootsie, she's been whining to get out, the naughty itty bitty baby girl, yes her was! Does this look clean to you, Mary? I'm getting it fixed for tonight, some of the girls are going to Schumann's Neapolitan ballroom, the Lovely, tonight. Miss Pruett's going to drive us in her car. Look, I've scrubbed and scrubbed, but that kind of dark place—"

"Haven't you anything else you can wear? Your black dress—"

"I thought I'd wear this. Look! Does that look like a spot to you? For goodness sake! There's ANOTHER! That wasn't there when I started! LOOK! Tootsie, if you don't get out of my way I WILL step on you good! And right now I don't want to spend my money on cleaning so I—"

"What do you DO with your money?"

"Do? Why, what do you mean?"

"Oh, Aunt Willie, don't be so evasive. You do something with it. What is it? Doctors again?"
